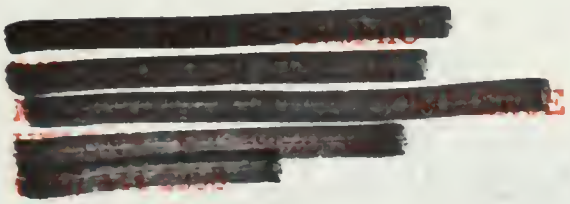
AGRICULTURAL

PRODUCTS

1975 EDITION



PUBLISHED BY:

MONTANA DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
CAPITOL ANNEX BUILDING
HELENA, MONTANA U.S.A. 59601

GEORGE LACKMAN, COMMISSIONER

COMPILED BY: Marketing and Transportation Division

This publication is the first of its kind in Montana and many of the listings were not obtained by personal contact due to time limitations. Many of the names and addresses were secured through association rosters and certain public records. Therefore, in many cases the information listed is not standardized. We welcome corrections and additions from you as this will assist us in the improvement of future editions.

FORWARD

It gives me great pleasure to furnish you with Montana Buyers' Guide To Agricultural Products.

Agriculture is Montana's largest and fastest growing industry. We are among the leading states in the production of many of America's basic food stuffs. Our large herds of cattle and sheep are the source of choice, processed carcasses and supply the nation's finest selection of purebred breeding stock. Production of top quality live hogs and premium dressed carcasses are also on the increase. Ranking third in total grain production, Montana supplies Dark Hard wheats known the world over for baking strength. Plump barley, oats and amber durum, of premium quality, are also produced in significant quantities.

Montana's growing honey industry exemplifies our broad agricultural base, accounting for nearly eight million pounds of premium, quality white clover honey annually.

We also produce significant quantities of alfalfa, potato and grain seeds, fresh cherries, flour, dairy and poultry products, sugar, dry beans, flax seed and numerous other commodities

The purpose of this publication is to assist buyers in making contacts with producers and suppliers who offer significant quantities of agricultural products in the state of Montana. We believe that you will find this publication useful in obtaining top quality agricultural products.
